

We are pleased to announce that the eProceedings of IASCL2021 are now available online. You can access them directly via the following website:

<https://iascl2021proceedings.weebly.com/>

The eProceedings contain a subset of the talks and posters presented at the conference. (You will find the original conference program, for reference purposes, at the bottom of the page.) You may access any of the entries in the eProceedings either by scrolling down the online Excel files and clicking on the relevant entries or by downloading the complete Excel file for the Posters or for the Talks and clicking on the desired entries.

Congratulations to the authors of the research presented here, for a fine set of eclectic and trail-blazing work covering a broad range of sub-disciplines in the field of child language acquisition.

Information on the format for citations is listed on the website.
